Packages Structure

" When you look at the top level directory structure, and the source files in the highest level package; do they scream: Health Care System, or Accounting System, or Inventory Management System? Or do they scream: Rails, or Spring/Hibernate, or ASP?

- Robert "Uncle Bob" Martin, Screaming Architecture

Top-Level Packages Names

Bad: activities, fragments, services, etc.

Good: cart, merchant, order, checkout, etc.

Not only top-level packages are important!
